1. Vendor Responsibilities

As a vendor at Little Duckling – Yukon Kids Market, you are an important part of what makes our event great. The following responsibilities apply to all registered vendors from the moment of registration through to the end of the pick-up window.

1.1 Registration. Vendors must complete their registration fully and accurately. Significant changes should be communicated to Little Duckling staff before the event.

1.2 Pricing. Vendors are solely responsible for pricing all of their items correctly, clearly, and legibly before drop-off. Prices must be written or printed in a manner that is easy to read by both market staff and shoppers. Illegible or ambiguous pricing may result in an item being removed from the sale floor until clarified.

1.3 Setup & Teardown. Vendors must set up and break down their assigned space strictly within the times communicated in their vendor confirmation email and event schedule. Arriving late for setup or remaining beyond the teardown window without prior authorization may affect a vendor's eligibility for future events.

1.4 Conduct of Accompanying Persons. Vendors are fully responsible for the conduct of anyone who accompanies them to the event, including family members, friends, and helpers. All persons accompanying a vendor are expected to abide by the same standards of behaviour described in Section 10.

1.5 Tidiness & Space Safety. Vendors must set up their assigned area in an organized manner, and free of hazards. This includes ensuring items do not spill into walkways, that racks and tables are stable, and that the space remains accessible and safe for shoppers, including families with strollers.

1.6 Reporting Incidents. Any incident, accident, injury, dispute, or concern observed by a vendor must be reported to a Little Duckling staff member or coordinator immediately. Vendors should not attempt to resolve disputes with shoppers or other vendors independently without first notifying staff.

1.7 Assigned Space. Vendors may only set up items to sell within their designated assigned space. Items may not be displayed, hung, placed, or offered for sale outside of the boundaries of the vendor's assigned area, unless otherwise directed by the organizer. This rule applies equally during setup, the sale period, and teardown.

1.8 Item Quality & Safety Standards. All items submitted for sale must meet the quality and safety standards described in Section 13 of this document. Vendors are expected to self-screen all items before drop-off. Little Duckling reserves the right to reject any item that does not meet these standards at drop-off.

1.9 Cooperation with Staff & Volunteers. Vendors agree to cooperate fully and respectfully with all Little Duckling staff members, coordinators, and volunteers throughout the event. Staff and volunteer instructions related to the safe and orderly operation of the market must be followed promptly.

2. Labeling Responsibility & Secure-Label Requirements

Proper labeling is one of the most critical parts of a smooth and fair sale for every vendor. Please read this section carefully and prepare your labels well in advance of drop-off.

2.1 Pre-Set-Up Labeling. All items must be fully labeled before they are brought to drop-off. Unlabeled items will not be accepted for sale. Market staff are not able to label items on behalf of vendors at drop-off.

2.2 Required Label Information. Each label must include all of the following:

- Asking price, written clearly and legibly
- Vendor ID number as assigned at registration
- Size, if there is no legible tag on the item

2.3 Secure Attachment. Labels must be securely attached to each item so that they cannot become detached during handling, transport, browsing, or sale. It is not sufficient for a label to merely be present — it must be reliably fastened in a way that will survive normal market conditions.

2.4 Acceptable Label Methods. The following label types and attachment methods are acceptable:

- Hang tags attached with safety pins through a secure point on the item (e.g., belt loop, collar seam, fabric loop)
- Adhesive sticker labels rated for use on fabric, plastic, or cardboard, firmly pressed to a clean surface
- Tags attached through an appropriate loop or hole on the item
- Pre-printed tags threaded through a tagging gun using a garment loop

2.5 Unacceptable Label Methods. The following label methods are not acceptable and items using only these methods will be considered unlabeled:

- Loose paper tags slipped loosely into bags, pockets, or boxes without being fastened to the item itself
- Removable sticky notes (e.g., Post-it notes)
- Labels placed exclusively on outer packaging that can be easily separated from the item (e.g., a sticker on a box lid only, where the item inside has no label)
- Labels written in ink that has smeared or faded to the point of illegibility

2.6 Vendor Responsibility for Label Integrity. Vendors are solely responsible for ensuring that their labels remain securely attached throughout the entirety of the sale, from drop-off through to pick-up. Little Duckling staff will make reasonable efforts to maintain the sale floor, but cannot be responsible for monitoring or re-attaching individual vendor labels.

2.7 No Liability for Detached Labels. Little Duckling – Yukon Kids Market is not responsible for items that become separated from their labels during the course of the event, regardless of the cause. Items found without a securely attached, legible label during the sale will be handled according to the policy in Section 3.

3. Unlabeled Item Policy & Ownership Transfer

This policy exists to protect the integrity of the sale floor and ensure fairness to all vendors and shoppers. It is applied consistently and without exception.

3.1 Definition of "Unlabeled." For the purposes of this policy, any item found during the sale period that does not have a legible label securely attached directly to the item (as described in Section 2) will be treated as unlabeled, regardless of any previous labeling that may have been applied.

3.2 Handling of Unlabeled Items. Unlabeled items discovered during the sale will be removed from the sale floor and set aside in a designated unlabeled items area. They will not be offered for sale in an unlabeled state. Where possible, market staff will attempt to contact the vendor associated with the item using the contact information provided at registration.

3.3 End-of-Event Ownership Transfer. If an unlabeled item cannot be matched to a vendor by the conclusion of the event's pick-up window — through staff identification, vendor contact, or proof of ownership as described in Section 4 — ownership of that item transfers automatically and irrevocably to Little Duckling – Yukon Kids Market. No further notice or consent from the vendor is required for this transfer to take effect.

3.4 Disposition of Transferred Items. Items transferred to Little Duckling under this policy may, at Little Duckling's sole discretion, be:

- Donated to a local Yukon charity or family support organization; or
- Retained for use in future Little Duckling market operations (e.g., display, operations, prize donations).

Little Duckling is not obligated to disclose the specific disposition of any transferred item.

3.5 Waiver of Claims. By registering as a vendor, vendors expressly waive all rights, title, and claims to any items that have been transferred to Little Duckling under this Section. No compensation will be paid for transferred items.

3.6 Purpose of Policy. This policy is designed to keep the sale floor clean, organized, and professional for shoppers and to ensure fairness to all vendors who have taken the time to properly label their items. We encourage all vendors to double-check every label before drop-off.

4. Proof of Ownership Exception

We understand that labels can sometimes come loose despite best efforts. This section describes the process for reclaiming an unlabeled or disputed item during the event.

4.1 Right to Reclaim. A vendor may reclaim an unlabeled or disputed item that has been removed from the sale floor, provided they can present satisfactory proof of ownership to a Little Duckling staff member or coordinator during the event, before the close of the pick-up window.

4.2 Acceptable Forms of Proof. The following forms of proof are considered acceptable, subject to staff assessment:

- A clear photograph of the specific item taken prior to drop-off that shows identifying details (brand, colour, markings, pattern, or unique features) consistent with the item in question
- An original store receipt showing the purchase of that specific item, with details that correspond to the item found
- An original manufacturer's tag, box, or packaging that matches the item and has not been previously removed and reapplied
- Any other documentation or information that, in the reasonable judgment of staff, clearly and convincingly identifies the vendor as the owner

4.3 Timing Requirement. Proof of ownership must be presented to a market staff member or coordinator before the end of the official pick-up window on the day of the event. Claims submitted after the event has concluded will not be accepted.

4.4 Final Determination by Little Duckling. Little Duckling – Yukon Kids Market reserves the right to make the final determination on all ownership disputes. Staff decisions are made in good faith and are final. We ask all vendors to approach this process respectfully and cooperatively.

4.5 No Post-Event Claims. Once an item has been transferred under Section 3 following the conclusion of the event, no further ownership claims will be accepted under any circumstances, regardless of any evidence that may later come to light.

5. Unsold Items Clause & Ownership Transfer

We want every vendor to take home items that have not been sold. Please plan ahead and ensure you — or someone you trust — is available during the pick-up window.

5.1 Vendor Responsibility to Collect. Vendors are responsible for collecting all of their unsold items during the designated pick-up window at the close of the event. The pick-up window times will be communicated clearly in the vendor confirmation email and the event schedule distributed before the event.

5.2 Communication of Pick-Up Window. Pick-up window times will be provided no later than the vendor confirmation email. Vendors are responsible for reading this communication and ensuring they are available or have made arrangements accordingly.

5.3 Ownership Transfer for Uncollected Items. Any items not collected by the end of the pick-up window become the property of Little Duckling – Yukon Kids Market. This transfer of ownership is automatic and does not require any additional notice.

5.4 Disposition of Uncollected Items. Uncollected items that transfer to Little Duckling may, at Little Duckling's sole discretion, be:

- Donated to a local Yukon charity or family support organization; or
- Retained for use in future Little Duckling market operations.

5.5 One Contact Attempt. Little Duckling will make one reasonable attempt to contact the vendor via the email or phone number provided at registration before transferring ownership of uncollected items.

However, Little Duckling is not obligated to hold uncollected items for more than 48 hours beyond the end of the pick-up window. If the vendor cannot be reached or does not respond within this window, the transfer proceeds as described in Section 5.3.

5.6 Authorized Pick-Up Persons. Vendors who know in advance that they will be unable to collect their own items must:

- Designate an authorized person to collect on their behalf; and
- Notify Little Duckling staff in writing (by email or written note) of that person's name before the event ends.

Little Duckling is not responsible for releasing items to any person who has not been pre-authorized in writing by the vendor.

5.7 No Liability for Uncollected Items. Little Duckling is not liable for any loss, damage, or other outcome related to items left beyond the pick-up window. Vendors waive all claims to items not collected within the designated window.

6. Commission Terms

Little Duckling operates on a commission model, meaning you keep the majority of your sales while a portion supports the ongoing costs of running the market. Here's how it works.

6.1 Commission Model. Little Duckling – Yukon Kids Market operates on a commission-based model. Vendors do not pay per-item fees; instead, a percentage of each item's sale price is retained by Little Duckling upon sale.

6.2 Standard Commission Rate. The standard commission rate retained by Little Duckling is 15% of each item's labeled sale price.

6.3 Calculation Basis. Commission is calculated on the final actual selling price of each item. If an item is sold at a price different from the labeled price due to a pricing error by the vendor (e.g., an illegible or ambiguous label), commission will be calculated on the price at which the item was actually sold, not the vendor's intended price.

6.4 No Commission on Unsold Items. Commission is only charged on items that are successfully sold. No commission is charged on items that remain unsold, regardless of whether the vendor collects them or they are transferred under Section 5.

6.5 What the Commission Covers. Commission collected by Little Duckling contributes to the costs of operating the market, including:

- Venue rental and facility setup
- Central check-out system and banking fees
- Market staffing and volunteer coordination
- Marketing, promotion, and community outreach
- Administrative and operational costs

6.6 Payout After Commission. Vendors will receive a net payout equal to their total sales revenue minus the applicable commission rate. Full details of payout timing and methods are described in Section 9.

7. Vendor Tiers

We offer three vendor tiers to give you flexibility based on your goals and availability. Read the options below and select the tier that suits you best at the time of registration. All tier details subject to organizer confirmation.

8.4 Failure to Complete a Shift (Volunteer Vendor Tier). A Volunteer Vendor who does not complete their assigned shift without providing prior written notice to Little Duckling staff may, at Little Duckling's discretion, have their commission rate adjusted to the Standard DIY Tier rate for the event.

If a genuine emergency prevents a vendor from completing their shift, please contact staff as early as possible. Little Duckling will assess these situations on a case-by-case basis.

8.5 Task Assignment. Little Duckling reserves the right to assign volunteer tasks and shift locations based on market needs on the day of the event. Volunteers may not refuse an assigned task without a valid reason; if a task creates a genuine accessibility or health concern, please raise it with staff immediately so an accommodation can be arranged.

8.6 Non-Employee Status. All volunteers, including Volunteer Vendors, are volunteers in the community sense. They are not employees, contractors, or agents of Little Duckling – Yukon Kids Market. Volunteers do not receive monetary compensation beyond the tier-based benefits described in Section 7.

9. Payout Terms

We want to make sure getting paid is as easy and transparent as possible. Here's how payouts work at Little Duckling.

9.1 Post-Event Reconciliation. Payouts are processed after the event has concluded and all sales have been fully reconciled by the Little Duckling team. We take care to ensure accuracy before issuing any payments.

9.2 Sales Summary. Each vendor will receive a sales summary that includes:

- Total number of items sold
- Total gross revenue generated by the vendor's items
- Commission amount deducted
- Net payout amount owing to the vendor

9.3 Payout Method. Payouts will be issued by e-Transfer. Vendors must ensure their payment information (i.e. e-Transfer email address) is correct at the time of registration.

9.4 Payout Timeline. Vendors will receive their payout within 3-5 business days of the close of the event. Little Duckling will notify vendors when payouts have been sent.

9.5 Vendor Responsibility for Accurate Information. Vendors must ensure that all contact and payment information provided at registration is accurate and up to date. Little Duckling is not responsible for payouts that are delayed, lost, or sent to the wrong destination due to incorrect information provided by the vendor. Corrections to payment information must be submitted in writing to Little Duckling before the event.

9.6 Discrepancy Disputes. If a vendor believes their sales summary contains an error or discrepancy, they must notify Little Duckling in writing within 7 days of receiving their sales summary. Disputes raised after this window may not be considered.

9.7 Unclaimed Payouts. If a payout cannot be successfully delivered after reasonable attempts, and the vendor has not responded to contact efforts within 7 days of the payout being issued, the unclaimed amount may be forfeited and donated to a local Yukon children's charity at Little Duckling's discretion.

10. Behaviour & Safety

Little Duckling is a family-friendly, community-minded event. We ask everyone to contribute to a welcoming, safe, and positive environment for shoppers, fellow vendors, children, and staff alike.

10.1 General Conduct. All vendors, their helpers, and any children or guests accompanying them are expected to conduct themselves in a respectful, courteous, and considerate manner at all times during the event — including during setup, the sale period, and teardown.

10.2 Zero Tolerance for Aggressive Behaviour. Aggressive, threatening, intimidating, discriminatory, or disrespectful behaviour directed toward other vendors, market staff, volunteers, or shoppers will result in the immediate removal of the offending individual(s) from the event premises. No refund of registration fees will be issued in these circumstances.

Any vendor or accompanying individual found in violation of this rule may be asked to leave the premises.

10.6 Hazard Reporting. Vendors who identify a safety hazard — including a spill, a broken item, a structural concern, or any unsafe situation — must report it to a market staff member immediately. Do not attempt to address safety hazards independently unless there is an immediate risk of injury.

10.7 Right to Remove. Little Duckling – Yukon Kids Market reserves the right to ask any vendor, helper, or accompanying individual to leave the event at any time if their behaviour is deemed unsafe, disruptive, harmful, or otherwise inconsistent with the values of our community market. This determination will be made by Little Duckling staff and is final.

11. Liability Disclaimer

Little Duckling takes its responsibility to our community seriously and works hard to create a safe, well-organized event. The following terms clarify the scope of our responsibility and the vendor's participation at their own risk.

11.1 Reasonable Precautions. Little Duckling – Yukon Kids Market takes reasonable precautions to maintain a safe and organized event environment. However, by registering and participating as a vendor, vendors acknowledge that they do so at their own risk.

11.2 Lost, Stolen, or Damaged Items. Little Duckling is not responsible for items that are lost, stolen, or damaged at any point during the event, including during drop-off, the sale period, or pick-up. Vendors are encouraged to photograph their items prior to drop-off and to exercise reasonable care in how they present their items.

11.3 Personal Injury. Little Duckling is not liable for any personal injury sustained by a vendor, their helpers, their children, or any accompanying individual during the event, whether on the event premises or in connection with event activities, except to the extent required by applicable Yukon law.

11.4 Vendor Item Accuracy & Safety. Vendors are solely and exclusively responsible for the accuracy of all item descriptions, the correctness of pricing, and the safety and condition of all items they submit for sale. Little Duckling does not inspect or verify individual items beyond its quality standards check at drop-off (see Section 13).

11.5 Indemnification. Each vendor agrees to indemnify and hold harmless Little Duckling – Yukon Kids Market, its organizers, coordinators, volunteers, and staff from and against any and all claims, losses, damages, or expenses (including reasonable legal fees) arising from or relating to:

- Items sold by that vendor, including any product liability claims
- Items subject to safety recalls that were submitted for sale
- Misrepresentation of an item's condition, description, or origin
- Any injury or damage caused by an item sold by the vendor

11.6 No Sales Guarantee. Little Duckling does not guarantee any minimum volume of sales or revenue to any vendor. Market results vary and depend on many factors outside Little Duckling's control, including shopper attendance, item demand, and pricing.

11.7 Event Cancellation Liability. In the event that Little Duckling is required to cancel the event due to circumstances beyond its reasonable control (as described in Section 12), Little Duckling's total liability to any vendor is limited to a refund of that vendor's registration fee only. No further compensation, damages, or costs will be owed.

12. Cancellation Policy

We understand that life happens. Please review this section carefully so you know your options if your plans change.

12A. Vendor-Initiated Cancellation

12.1 Early Cancellation. Cancellations submitted in writing to Little Duckling 30 days before the event date will receive a full refund of the registration fee, minus a $10 administrative processing fee.

12.3 Late Cancellation. Cancellations submitted fewer than 30 days before the event date are not eligible for a refund. The registration fee is forfeited in full.

12.4 No-Show. A vendor who does not appear on the day of the event without having submitted a prior written cancellation will forfeit their registration fee in full. Vendors are responsible for ensuring their contact information is current. Little Duckling is not responsible for cancellation notifications that are not received due to outdated or incorrect contact information.

13. Item Quality Requirements

Our shoppers come to Little Duckling expecting good-quality, safe, gently used children's items. These standards protect your reputation as a vendor, the reputation of the market, and most importantly, the safety of the children who will use these items.

13.1 General Condition Standard. All items submitted for sale must be clean, in good condition, and genuinely suitable for resale. Items should be something you would feel comfortable buying yourself.

13.2 Grounds for Rejection. Items will be rejected at drop-off if they exhibit any of the following:

- Stains, including faded, washed-in, or set stains on clothing or fabric items
- Tears, rips, holes, or broken structural components
- Missing pieces that affect the usability or completeness of the item
- Strong or unpleasant odours, including smoke, mildew, or heavy perfume
- Visible mold, mildew, or water damage
- Excessive or heavy wear that significantly degrades the item's value or usability

13.3 Canadian Product Safety Compliance. All items submitted for sale must comply with current Canadian product safety regulations and standards. Vendors are responsible for checking whether any of their items are subject to a Health Canada or Transport Canada product safety recall prior to drop-off. Recalls can be searched at canada.ca/product-safety. Items subject to active recalls will not be accepted.

13.4 Items That Are Never Accepted. The following items will not be accepted under any circumstances, regardless of condition:

- Car seats — Due to safety recall complexity, unknown expiry dates, and the inability to verify crash history
- Cribs and sleep equipment not meeting current Health Canada standards — Including drop-side cribs and any crib not compliant with current federal regulations
- Items with damaged, missing, or non-functional safety features — For example, a highchair with a missing harness buckle, a helmet with a cracked shell, or a stroller with a broken harness
- Any item subject to an active Health Canada safety recall

13.5 Clothing Standards. All clothing items must be laundered and fresh before drop-off. Clothing must be free of pet hair (to the best of your ability), lint, and strong odours. Items should be folded neatly or placed on hangers where appropriate.

13.6 Toy Standards. Toys must be complete and in functional working condition. Where batteries are required for operation:

- Batteries should be included where possible; or
- The item label should clearly note "batteries not included" so shoppers are informed before purchase.

Toys with loose, broken, or missing small parts that pose a choking hazard will not be accepted.

13.7 Book Standards. Books must be free of excessive writing or drawing throughout the pages, torn or missing pages, significant water damage or warping, or damaged spines that cause pages to fall out. Light writing of a child's name on a front page or minor shelf wear is generally acceptable.

13.8 Right to Refuse at Drop-Off. Little Duckling reserves the right to refuse any item at drop-off that does not meet these quality standards, at the sole judgment of the staff member conducting the intake.

Items that are refused must be taken back by the vendor immediately. Refused items may not be left at the event venue.

13.9 No Compensation for Refused Items. Vendors will not receive any compensation, credit, or partial refund related to items that are refused at drop-off, regardless of the number of items refused.
